

IN THIS PRESS KIT

Contents:

- ◆ Press Release
- ◆ Legacy Living™ Synopsis, Sneak Peek Link, and Endorsements
- ◆ Bio and Photo
- ◆ Gloria's Legacy Begins — The Story of William Faulkner and Gloria's Father
- ◆ Vitae
 - Faculty Appointments
 - Academic Degrees
 - Current Professional Assignments and Activities
- ◆ About Jazz, Inc.
- ◆ Selected Client List
- ◆ Keynotes and Workshops (Potential Interview and Article Topics)
- ◆ Speaking Schedule
- ◆ Media Appearances: Radio, TV, and Other Media
- ◆ Q & A
- ◆ Accolades for Dr. Gloria Burgess

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

FAULKNER'S GIFT OF A COLLEGE EDUCATION INSPIRES LIFE LEGACY

Author and speaker Dr. Gloria Burgess lives a legacy catalyzed by Faulkner's gift to her father.

Seattle, WA. January 1, 2007 — When author William Faulkner offered to pay for Earnest McEwen's college education back in 1953, he likely never fully comprehended the lives this generous gift would influence. Faulkner simply asked Mr. McEwen to pass on the gift to someone else. Author and speaker Dr. Gloria Burgess, Earnest's daughter, was forever impacted by Faulkner's generosity as well as her father's courageous humility, and she recounts the story in her latest book, Legacy Living: The Six Covenants for Personal & Professional Excellence.

Back in the time when racial segregation reigned in our nation, Gloria's African-American father worked as a janitor at the University of Mississippi. As he swept floors, he dreamed of getting a good education of his own. Fueled by the determination to make a better life for his family, he courageously spoke to others about his dream. One day a professor he confided in told the Dean of the University about Gloria's father, who then told William Faulkner. Remarkably, Faulkner not only paid Gloria's father's college expenses, he also made sure that the family had clothes to wear and food to eat. Faulkner's generous gift and friendship allowed Gloria's family to eventually move out of poverty, and out of the South. More importantly, Faulkner's gift chipped away at institutional racism long before integration was mandated.

In the course of living the legacy begun by her father, Dr. Gloria Burgess earned five college degrees, and published Legacy Living as well as three books of poetry. She travels the world speaking to and consulting with corporations and non-profits on legacy living via cultural inclusivity, creativity, and leadership. In addition to serving on the faculty of several universities, Gloria is the Principal of Jazz, Inc. and is currently at work on a dynamic new nonfiction book, Dare to Wear Your Soul on the Outside.

For more information on the Faulkner story, Dr. Gloria Burgess, Jazz, Inc., or her book Legacy Living, visit www.gloriaburgess.com or call Gloria Burgess at 206.954.0732.

###

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Second printing. ISBN 1-930771-17-7
Copyright ©2006 Gloria J. Burgess. All rights reserved.
Executive Excellence Publishing, Inc. Provo, Utah

Synopsis

Legacy Living is a sacred promise, a covenant you make to yourself and to future generations. In her stunning new book, Gloria compels us to re-imagine our lives and devote ourselves to what truly matters, not just for ourselves, but as stewards for our children and our children's children.

In the marvelous world of legacy living you will learn how to step boldly and courageously into the life that is waiting just for you. Gloria shows you how to have authority over tomorrow by living with purpose and intention today. You will also learn how to give voice to your deepest longings and, by doing so, leave a shining legacy for generations to come.

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Endorsements for Legacy Living

"Envisioning our legacy for tomorrow can help us learn how to live today. All leaders need to demonstrate Legacy Living for their employees. Great coaching to help all of us focus on what really matters!"

Marshall Goldsmith, Author of The Leader of the Future, a Business Week best-seller, World-Renowned Executive Coach, Recognized as one of 50 great thinkers and leaders of the past 80 years

"Punctuated throughout with her poignant poetry, Gloria Burgess has written a beautifully elegant, yet practical book to lead you toward personal and professional excellence. She extends an invitation to explore six covenants—or promises—designed to keep you on an inspirational path to a greater vision of who you are and what you can become—all with the gentle guidance and strength of our Creator. I accept her invitation to embark on this inspirational journey and hope you will too."

Paul J. Meyer, Founder of Success Motivation Institute, Inc., New York Times Best-Selling Author

"This inspirational book demonstrates in practical ways how to cultivate the character qualities of love, faith, trust, wisdom, vision, and integrity in order to unharness the unlimited creativity and resourcefulness found in the human spirit. Gloria Burgess provides an invaluable guidebook for any profession, age group, or individual."

Angeles Arrien, Ph.D., Author, The Second Half of Life and The Four-Fold Way

"I have had the honor over the years to become a colleague of Gloria Burgess. I have come to know her as a living, breathing testimony on how to live an authentic life. She is a life model for integrity, how to live with a strong sense of purpose as she teaches us how to honor our creative self. Her presence is a gift to the planet. Gloria's own legacy is that she has made a tremendous difference in many people's lives."

John Oleson, M.A., Life and Career Coach

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess Bio

Kevin Ray Smith

Dr. Gloria Burgess loves nothing more than inspiring others to create a bridge from what was, and what is, to what can be . . . and she's dedicated her entire life to doing just that.

An author, speaker, executive coach, and consultant who engages individuals and organizations in the process of finding the vital core of their creative self, Gloria weaves together her own personal legacy using the threads of authenticity, creativity, soulful living, and cultural inclusivity.

Described by many as “. . . a pleasing fragrance of a person who cares deeply and loves all the threads of her life,” Gloria Burgess is a human loom who synthesizes every aspect of her life and work to benefit others in the most extraordinary way.

Gloria speaks and leads legacy journeys worldwide. Mother, sister, daughter, and wife in a 30+ year legacy-living marriage, Gloria is an award-winning poet, author, director, and performing artist. She is also Principal of Jazz, Inc., her executive coaching and consulting firm. Gloria has published Legacy Living as well as three books of poetry, including Journey of the Rose and The Open Door and has written an inspirational picture book for children of all ages about her father's life-changing relationship with author William Faulkner. She is currently at work on a new nonfiction book, Dare to Wear Your Soul on the Outside.

Gloria earned a PhD in Performance Studies and an MBA in Organizational Behavior and Information Systems from the University of Southern California. She also holds an MA in Applied Behavioral Science from Bastyr University, and an MA in Speech Communication and Theater from the University of Michigan.

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Gloria's Legacy Begins . . .

The Story of William Faulkner and Gloria's Father

The legacy Gloria lives was kindled early on by the true-life example provided by her father and his benefactor, author William Faulkner.

Back in the time when racial segregation reigned in our nation, Gloria's father worked as a janitor at "Ol' Miss"—the University of Mississippi. As he swept floors and emptied the trash, he dreamed of getting a good education of his own. Fueled by the determination to make a better life for his family, he courageously spoke to others about his dream. One day, he spoke to a professor about his burning desire to go to college. That professor told the Dean of Ol' Miss about Gloria's father. The Dean told someone else.

That someone else was William Faulkner.

Faulkner not only paid Gloria's father's college expenses, he also made sure that Gloria, her mother and her sisters had clothes to wear. Faulkner's generous gift and friendship, along with her father's commitment to his dream allowed her family to eventually move out of poverty, and out of the South.

Perhaps more importantly, Faulkner's taking a stand on behalf of Gloria's father was his own personal way of chipping away at institutionalized racism—long before integration was mandated. By the same token, Gloria's father's willingness to be befriended by Faulkner and the courage and humility with which her father received this gift opened doors for everyone in her family. His legacy was his unflagging determination and abiding commitment to his dream of attending college.

Although her father initially declined Faulkner's offer because he didn't see how he could repay him, Faulkner insisted that Gloria's father receive the gift and simply pass the blessing on to someone else along the way. Her father touched the lives of many individuals, encouraging all to attend college and to go after their dreams.

Today, Gloria continues to pass her father's blessing on to others. And in living her legacy, she rejoices in weaving the many threads of her dynamic life into an alluring tapestry and teaches others how to do the same, so that they, too, can live the life that is waiting—just for them.

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess Vitae

Faculty Appointments

Assistant Professor, College of Engineering

University of Washington

Appointed 1988

Affiliate Assistant Professor, College of Engineering

University of Washington

Appointed 1990

Visiting Faculty, Undergraduate Program

Bastyr University's Leadership Institute

Appointed 1995

Graduate Faculty & Program Lead, Graduate Program

Bastyr University's Leadership Institute

Appointed 1995

Graduate Faculty & Program Lead, Corporate Program

Bastyr University's Leadership Institute

Appointed 1996

Consulting Faculty, Undergraduate & Graduate Programs

Bastyr University's Leadership Institute

Appointed 1997

Executive Coach to the Dean

Bastyr University's Leadership Institute

Appointed 1997

Core Faculty

Leadership Tomorrow

Appointed 1998

Executive Coach to the Dean of Libraries

University of Washington

Appointed 2000

Consulting Faculty, Program Development

Leadership Tomorrow

Appointed 1997

Visiting Scholar, Leadership & Spirituality

Gonzaga University

Invitation 2002

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732

f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com

www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess Vitae (cont.)

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Faculty Appointments (cont.)

Core Faculty, Leadership & Management

Antioch University

Invitation 2002

Faculty, Graduate Program

Bainbridge Graduate Institute

Appointed 2005

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Academic Degrees

PhD University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California, 1980, Performance Studies; Communication; Distinguished Scholar in Theater and Communication

MBA University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California, 1986, Organizational Behavior & Design; Information Systems

MA Bastyr University's Leadership Institute, Bothell, Washington, 1995, Applied Behavioral Science; Leadership & Consulting

MA University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, 1977, Communication; English; Distinguished Fellow and Scholar in Direction and Performance

BGS University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, 1975, Education; Anthropology; English; Speech Communication

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Current Professional Assignments and Activities

Keynote Speaker. Presents keynotes for a spectrum of organizations, including corporations, medical centers and other health-care providers, universities, schools, government, and human services, using the power of presence, poetry, music, and story to develop leadership and learning communities, bridge cultures, and support organizations and individuals in bringing their authenticity—what Gloria calls their full voices—to relationships, work, and community.

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess Vitae (cont.)

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Current Professional Assignments and Activities (cont.)

Author. Writes inspirational books and articles on leadership, creativity, spiritual integration, and personal development.

Poet. Writes poetry on universal themes of family, love, gratitude, integrity, legacy, and honoring ancestral and cultural foundations.

Performing Artist and Community Leader. Leads workshops and presents performances for a spectrum of organizations, including corporations, medical centers, universities, schools, government, service, and community, using the power of presence, poetry, music, and story to develop leadership and learning communities, bridge cultures, and support individuals in bringing their full voices to relationships, work, and community.

Principal – Jazz, Inc. Presents keynotes and provides consulting and executive coaching on leadership, creative genius, and creating spirited intercultural organizations.

Consulting Artist. Provides mastery level performance, expert demonstration, advice, and counsel to school administrators, teachers, and students on arts infusion and integration. Advises and counsels administrators on arts and civic engagement.

Senior Director – Casey Family Programs. Leads initiatives for leadership excellence and organizational learning.

Executive Director – The Lift Every Voice Foundation. Provides leadership and direction to the Board. Oversees strategic and operational activities of the foundation. Conceived and developed The Lift Every Voice Program, an innovative educational program to develop youth and adult leaders.

Faculty and Consultant – University of Washington. Teaches and consults on leadership, spirited work, creative genius, and intercultural intelligence.

Consulting Faculty – Leadership Tomorrow. Teaches and consults on leadership, systems thinking, intercultural intelligence, and communication. Consults on experiential learning and curriculum design and development.

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess Vitae (cont.)

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Current Professional Assignments and Activities (cont.)

Faculty – Bainbridge Graduate Institute. Teaches and coaches graduate students in innovative MBA program on creativity and right livelihood.

Affiliate Faculty – University of Washington. Teaches leadership, communication, and applied learning strategies.

Conference Designer and Facilitator. Designs leadership conferences and leads workshops internationally on authentic leadership and spiritual integration.

Mentor – University of Washington’s Women in Engineering Program. Provides advice and counsel to women majoring in science, engineering, and mathematics.

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess

About Jazz, Inc.

Dr. Gloria Burgess is the Founder and Principal of Jazz, Inc., an executive coaching and consulting firm providing a variety of services to individuals and organizations. A highly regarded expert in the areas of authentic leadership, diversity, and creativity, Gloria brings the fresh air of perspective to corporations and non-profits by helping them access clarity and a new paradigm of discovery.

Vibrant, energetic, and engaged in the moment, Gloria draws from her own life experience when engaging others. Like a master jazz musician, Gloria leads by example, calling forth the unique, inherent talents and strengths of each individual or work group and empowering them to create their own path to success.

Jazz, Inc.'s services are as diverse and multidimensional as the clients we serve.

Organizational Support Services include consulting, keynote speaking, executive coaching, and workshops for corporations and non-profit organizations in the areas of leadership, diversity, creativity, and innovation.

Personal Development Services include executive coaching in the areas of legacy leadership, career/life transition, creativity and personal growth, and poetry encounters designed to inspire and engage others in a deeper awareness of themselves and those around them. Diversity, healing, and renewal are recurring themes in Gloria's poetry.

To learn more about how Gloria can help you or your organization, or to book Gloria for a keynote or workshop, please call us at 206.954.0732.

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Selected Client List

Adobe Systems Corporation
Antioch University
AT&T Corporation
Bainbridge Graduate Institute
Bastyr University's Leadership Institute (LIOS)
The Boeing Company
Casey Family Programs
Cingular
Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc.
Guiding Lights Network
Hollyhock Retreat Centre
Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers
International Coach Federation
International Society for Technical Communication
Microsoft Corporation
MSNBC
Providence Health Systems
Providence Hospice of Seattle
Qwest
Richard Hugo House
Robert Wood Johnson Foundation
Seattle Community College
Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc.
Skagit River Poetry Festival
South African Embassy, Switzerland
State of Idaho Department of Child Protective Services
State of Texas Department of Child Protective Services
State of Washington Department of Early Childhood Learning
University of Washington
Vulcan, Inc.
Washington State Association of School Business Officials
Westgate Chapel
Whidbey Island Writer's Conference
Women's International Network

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Keynotes & Workshops (Potential Interview and Article Topics)

Legacy Living Topics

Legacy Living: The Six Covenants for Personal & Professional Excellence

Legacy Living: Living with Intention & Imagination in the Second Half of Life

Legacy Living: Crafting a Life That Matters

Legacy Living: Phenomenal Women

Legacy Living: The Power of Intention

Legacy Journey: Faulkner's Legacy—Pass It On!

Legacy Living: Weaving a Life with Heart & Soul

Legacy Leadership Topics

Legacy Leadership: Leading with Verve as a Leader of Color

Legacy Leadership: Innovation in Child Welfare

Legacy Leadership: Integrating Heart & Spirit

Legacy Leadership: Leading with Artistry

Legacy Leadership: Community Matters

Specialized Legacy Topics

Legacy: How Art Matters

Legacy Journey: Legacy Living for Educators

Legacy of the Heart: Creating Your Memory Book

Legacy Coaching: Co-creating a Covenant with the Future

Legacy Giving: Creating a Covenant with the Future

Legacy Giving: Creating a Covenant for the Sake of Our Children

Other Keynotes & Workshops

Spirit at Work

Encouraging the Heart

Enabling Others to Act

Telling Allowed!: The Power of Story to Heal

Resilience: Mastering the Crisis of Change

Thriving in the Midst of Chaos

The Role of Creativity & Spirit in Leadership

Lift Every Voice: Bringing Spirit to Work

Making Managers into Leaders

Leading from Within

Get Jazzed! Coaching with Heart & Soul

Writing Across the Threshold

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777

Edmonds, WA USA

98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732

f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com

www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Speaking Schedule 2007

Third Place Commons

Lake Forest Park, Washington

"Coming Together, Building Together"

7th Annual Tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

January 15, 2007

www.thirdplacecommons.org

Seattle Center

Seattle, Washington

"Purpose, Possibility, & Cultivating the Imagination"

2nd Annual Guiding Lights Weekend

January 26-28, 2007

www.guidinglightsnetwork.com

Providence Hospice

Everett, Washington

Retreat: Legacy ~ Living & Renewal

February 3, 2007

Women's Business Exchange

Seattle, Washington

Keynote: Legacy Living

February 8, 2007

www.wbex.org

Whidbey Island Writers' Conference

Langley, Washington

Writers' Workshop, Panel, Mentoring

March 1 – 3, 2007

www.writeonwhidbey.org

Cultural Reconnections

Nairobi, Kenya

Weaving Cross-Cultural Legacies

March 15 – 29, 2007

Delta Sigma Theta, Inc.

Los Angeles, California

Keynote: Legacy ~ Serving with Heart & Soul

May 26, 2007

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess Speaking Schedule (cont.)

Providence Health Systems

Everett, Washington

Keynote: Diversity – Building a Legacy Community

June 5, 2007

Hui Ho'olana

Molokai, Hawaii

Workshop: Legacy of the Heart

June 16 – 22, 2007

www.huiho.org

Sound of the Northwest

Seattle, Washington

20th Anniversary Concert & Cultural Outreach

Guest Conductor: Dr. Ysaye M. Barnwell of Sweet Honey in the Rock

Benaroya Hall

June 23, 2007

Women's International Network

Oslo, Norway

Keynote: Legacy Leadership

September 27 – 29, 2007

www.winconference.net/main.asp

National Staff and Development Training Association

Dallas, Texas

Panel: Legacy Leadership ~ For the Sake of Our Children

September 30 – October 3, 2007

National Black Child Development Institute

Chicago, Illinois

Workshop: Legacy Leadership ~ Giving Our Children Wings to Soar

October 21 – 23, 2007

www.nbcdi.org

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Media Appearances – Radio, TV, and Other Media

Radio

National Public Radio's All Things Considered

British Public Radio

KCMS

KSVR

KJLH

InnerLight Internet Radio

WUOM

Television

Black Entertainment Television (BET)

Viacom's Homage on the Hill: Honoring Our Mothers

Viacom's The Garage Kids

Film

The Heart of Business

PBS's Social Responsibility and the Arts

Experience Arts Camp's Arts Alive!!

CDs & Tapes

Get JAZZed!!: Creativity and the Soul of Leadership

Journey of the Rose ~ Poetry and Original Music

Social Activism and the Arts

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777

Edmonds, WA USA

98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732

f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com

www.gloriaburgess.com

Dr. Gloria Burgess

Q & A

What inspired you to write Legacy Living?

Each of us leaves a legacy, whether we are conscious of it or not. My book Legacy Living shows readers how to be conscious of the legacy they leave.

I wrote this book for two primary reasons: first of all, to inspire others to use their gifts and talents with intention, not merely for themselves but to be of service to others.

Secondly, I wrote the book to honor the legacy my parents passed on to me, which is to inspire others to recognize that we are all indeed sisters and brothers. In today's global village, this is not a luxury; it is a social and moral imperative. I am blessed that my mother and father instilled in me a strong sense of kinship with and responsibility for others. In my family, this way of being was a "given," passed down from generation to generation. It was the very air I breathed. I want to empower others to do the same.

How does Legacy Living relate to your earlier books—both your poetry and non-fiction books?

The themes in all my books are related; they all focus on the essential human values of relationship, caring, belonging, gratitude, love, and legacy. In my poetry and non-fiction work, I explore what I refer to as sacred promises, which relate directly to the specifics of how one lives and how one leaves a legacy.

In the book, you talk about William Faulkner's role in your father's life. How did that affect your career and life path?

Faulkner and my father taught me to respect our common humanity, regardless of race, culture, gender, or age.

William Faulkner became my father's benefactor and friend, paying for my father to attend college and arranging for his other expenses to be paid with no strings attached. As my father's benefactor, Faulkner simply asked, as payment, that my father take the kindness and "pass it on." To say that Faulkner's role in my father's life was life-changing is an understatement. By touching my father's life, both Faulkner and my father left legacies that have since touched thousands of others—through the reach of my father, my mother, my four sisters, and me. Ultimately, the thousands we've touched will touch tens of thousands, and on it goes.

In accepting Faulkner's kindness, my father taught me humility and an uncommon kind of courage, lessons that I have since come to deeply appreciate and integrate into my own life. My father also passed on the importance of a college education. For my sisters and me it was not a matter of if we would attend college, but which one. As a result, I am a passionate, life-long learner. Whenever I have an opportunity, I encourage others to become avid learners, so they can become all that God intends for them to be.

Dr. Gloria Burgess Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Though Faulkner's role was significant, even more significant was my parents' role in my life. My father and mother taught me to dream not only for myself but to look beyond and to dream on behalf of others, particularly those who lack the confidence to pursue their dreams.

What does legacy mean, and how can legacy living be a benefit for me?

Most of us think about legacy as something that we leave behind or the story that others remember and tell about us after we die. That's only a small part of what legacy means.

Legacy means to leave an inheritance. Each of us leaves an inheritance through our words and actions each and every day of our lives. Whether you intend to or not, whether you are conscious of it or not, you impact others by your presence, by what you say, by what you do or fail to do. You leave a trace of yourself, a footprint however small or large, of your life here on earth. Every choice you make will contribute to the footprint you make.

Legacy living is all about being intentional in how you interact with others, in your relationships, in what matters to you.

Legacy living is about being the author of your own story, being the person in charge of your life here and now so that you build a worthy bridge to the future. The benefit of legacy living is that you can live with purpose and intention, choosing the imprint you make on others. By choosing legacy living as a lifestyle, you can influence the future in a positive way.

What are the sacred promises and why are they important?

The sacred promises I explore in my book are legacy, gratitude, faith, vision, love, integrity, and creative expression. The sacred promises are spiritual commitments that guide you and keep you on track in your daily life. Ultimately, the sacred promises define who you are and whose you are. The sacred promises are important because they define the quality of your choices in relationships, in your work, and in every other aspect of your life. Most importantly, the sacred promises provide the necessary bridge that irrevocably connects you to the future. Each promise is essential for legacy living. Collectively, they keep you conscious and intentional with your life. They keep you focused on a life of beneficial service.

For those who do not have children, how do they create a "shining legacy for our children and our children's children?"

Wherever your passion is, there you will also find your legacy.

I encounter many people who do not have children, yet they want to make a difference in their small corner of the world and want their lives count for something. These individuals create a legacy for others in the same way that everyone else does. They simply focus on what they care about.

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Because we all have unique gifts, talents, and skills, our options are virtually limitless. Some of us are excellent at encouraging others, so that is how we leave our footprint—that is how we make a difference. Some of us have a passion for gardening, so we create places of beauty for ourselves and others. Some of us focus on the environment, health care, caring for our elders, social justice, or helping others in need.

Are there any particular groups for whom the book is targeted?

Legacy Living is a resource for people who are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of others and who are interested in starting with their own personal transformation.

It is a book for people of all ages, all walks of life, and all cultures. The book reaches women and men, youth and elders, and those who work in diverse settings, including health care, education, business, law, technology, and government. I have been blessed to work with people all over the world. The common elements I find in everyone are our humanity and our desire to make the world a little bit better off than we found it.

What does spirituality have to do with legacy living?

Spirituality and legacy living are both about reverence, devotion to a divine force outside of ourselves, devotion to our own growth and development, and devotion to others whom we may never meet or come to know, but who depend on us to make positive, life-affirming choices.

My parents came from families that our culture would call "dirt poor." Even so, my parents and theirs measured wealth not by how much money they had in the bank, but by the depth, breadth, and reach of your spirit. Looking out for, caring for, nurturing, and assisting family, neighbors, and even complete strangers was part of the deal. I was taught that I was a member of a collective, a village where kinship and caring for others was the very soul of community.

We are all connected to one another.

What is the connection between creativity and spirituality?

Both creativity and spirituality express your intimate relationship with God. As human beings, you honor God by expressing your creativity, the outward expression, or manifestation, of your innermost spirit.

I heard Archbishop Desmond Tutu speak recently. He encouraged us to remember that "God is waiting on us; He needs our help." I took that to mean that in my daily life, what I do, what I say, how I think, and how I relate to others matters. As a spiritual commitment, legacy living requires that I choose gratitude, faith, love, and each of the other sacred promises as a lifestyle, that I incorporate them into my way of thinking and behaving every moment of my life.

Dr. Gloria Burgess Jazz, Inc.

PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

How do you respond to people who think they are not creative?

I gently remind people that each one of us is creative. This is not a choice; this is a given. The choice is simply to decide what you will do with your abundant creativity. I encourage people to think about creativity in a way that is meaningful to them.

In our culture, we have segregated creativity, connecting it most often to the arts. The arts are one essential realm of creativity, but it is certainly not the only one. You can be creative in any sphere of your life—gardening, cooking, running, friendship, problem-solving, parenting, counseling, praying, dancing, sewing, administration, journaling, meditating, walking. On a practical, physical level, you engage in a deeply creative act with every breath you take, for with each breath you recreate the cells in your body.

What do you mean when you say “Dare to Wear Your Soul on the Outside”?

Wearing your soul on the outside means being all that God created you to be; it means not hiding out or pretending to be less than who you are. It means claiming authority over your own life, claiming your beauty, magnificence, and power.

Wearing your soul on the outside also means honoring your God-given gifts and talents by being congruent in what you think, feel, and do. It means daring to let your light and brilliance shine through. It means living your life as if someone’s life depended on you, because it does. You never know who’s watching you. You never know who’s counting on you. You never know the ripple effect of your actions.

Life is short. When you let your brilliance shine through, others can catch a glimmer of their brilliance.

What kind of follow-ups might be in the works for this book?

I plan to expand into other products that support this book—products that include an “I Dare You” workbook, journal, and DVD; as well as inspirational card decks, calendars, and other resources and reminders to support you in your journey of wearing your soul on the outside. I plan to create a series of books that delve more deeply into the sacred promises, including books on relationships, family, work, and so on. I also plan to create a weekly or monthly column, focused on the sacred promises for the print media.

Where can I find more information about your book and workshop schedules?

You can find additional information about my Legacy Living book on my website: www.legacy-living.com. You can find more information about my other books, as well as my workshop and speaking schedule on my website: www.gloriaburgess.com.

If you have further questions or would like more information on Jazz, Inc., Gloria’s books, or scheduling a keynote or workshop with Gloria Burgess, please call 206.954.0732.

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Accolades for Dr. Gloria Burgess

"I've attended a lot of conferences and inspirational workshops, and I have to say that hearing Gloria speak is a truly electric experience. People are so on the edge of their seats to hear what she will say next that you could hear a pin drop. She is just tremendous—absolutely fascinating. She blends the spiritual with the intellectual in such a way that causes you jump out of your skin and take a look at yourself. It's like instant therapy. After her talk people swarmed all around her and yet she seemed to have room for everyone. As each person left her presence, you could just see that "Ahh!" expression of insight and empowerment on their faces.

Beyond her remarkable presentational abilities, I have been so blessed to also know Gloria as a person. Her humility and huge heart cause others to feel instantly comfortable in her space. She really is amazing. Gloria has taught me that no matter what our circumstances or where we live that you can make life into anything you want it to be, with absolutely no constraints. I may not make huge changes where I'm at right now, but I will leave traces of my journey that will leave a path for others to follow. Life is a journey, and Gloria is one of those people who has come into my life and changed it forever. She is a rare and lovely person who I wish I could see all the time."

— Her Excellency Dr. Konji Sebati
South African Ambassador to Switzerland

"I am part of the ICF team here in Australia and made a submission to our member newsletter drawing on Gloria's incredible presentation at the ICFA conference in 2003, Sydney.

I realized that I so often think of Gloria's words and yet, apart from a quick chat at the end of the session, I hadn't shared with her what a powerful impact they had on me. And the impact continues. Gloria has become part of my thinking and sensing. In particular, I think regularly of the legacy I am creating; I ask myself whether I am bringing my whole self forward; and I revel in my long stride of spirit.

Thank you. Thank you."

— Natarsha Hearn, Professional Coach
International Coach Federation (ICF), Australia

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com

Accolades for Dr. Gloria Burgess (cont.)

"In the time I have known Gloria Burgess, I have renewed hope for the collective soul of the work world. In my work at the University of Washington Department of Training and Development, I meet many consultants. I also hear from employees ready to give up, flattened by life and crushing demands. Most people show up for training with one of two attitudes; either it's 'I'm not going to like this' or 'fix me.' Gloria's style cannot be compared to other consultants because she conjures transformation to a road of hope. It's the poetry. The experience burns with the sun of persuasion so people take off their coat of pain and trust the whole of themselves. Gloria leads that.

She weaves the group in and out of an exchange of ideas, gets people to write their dreams on a piece of paper, to take 60 seconds to compose a poem before the mind can criticize, then gathers this evidence up in a basket. Something bothering you? Write it down and toss it out. Knowing that we each are our best teacher, Gloria makes no pretense of handing over knowledge. What she does: introduce people to their core, not with smoke and mirrors, but with a reflection of their own vision for themselves. This is teaching."

— Sally Johnson, University of Washington
Training and Professional Development

"Gloria is so gifted at what she does. Her creative energy and talent never cease to astound me, and I have worked with some pretty amazing individuals throughout my career. I am honored to know Gloria and work with her, and we are very fortunate to have her on our team."

— Gifford Pinchot III, Founder & President
Bainbridge Graduate Institute

"Gloria Burgess is a living legacy of what humanity truly can be. She understands the humanity in each of us individually and in the world. We need to listen to Gloria, and to learn from her."

— Dr. Nancy J. Adler, Professor of International Management, McGill University, Montreal, Canada

Dr. Gloria Burgess
Jazz, Inc.
PO Box 777
Edmonds, WA USA
98020-0777

p: 206.954.0732
f: 425.776.4640

gloria@gloriaburgess.com
www.gloriaburgess.com